

This photograph was taken in Halifax County. It was early morning and the workers were dressed in ponchos to help keep them dry from the morning dew on the tobacco leaves.

After picking tobacco leaves by hand, they are carried in stacks to an awaiting tractor.