

This photograph was taken by Stephanie Daniels on her family farm in Halifax County. The workers are planting sweet potatoes as they ride on the back of the tractor and hand-feed the seedlings into the machinery.

The original painting is owned by the Jervay Family of Charlotte, North Carolina. While not on display at the 2022 show at the Imperial Center, this painting is an important part of the series and has been included in the digital gallery.